ENGL 102: English Composition II

Web Source for Definition Essay

Due 10/18/17

Now that you’ve chosen a contested term for your definition essay, it’s time to do a little web research about your term. Remember to use our Website Evaluation Checklist to confirm that your source is reliable and worthy of being cited in an academic essay. (Please note that library database websites are not appropriate for this particular assignment, though they are fantastic for research in general, and may be used in the actual essay.) For this assignment, be sure to include your contested term, the URL of the website you have found, and a brief statement of how you could use this website as a source for your essay.
