10 times during the semester you are asked to submit a media exploration sheet. Each submission is worth 15 points (a total of 150 points assigned during the course). Due dates are listed in the course calendar. To complete each sheet, select a source you have not already used from the list provided below, listen/watch/read a political or government-related article/podcast, etc... from that source and complete a short media worksheet. Media analysis should be done the “old-fashioned way”—in pen or pencil.

The list includes websites, podcasts, newspapers, magazines, radio broadcasts, video content, etc... Sources are available free online, as podcasts, in the library, or on local radio and television. I encourage you to seek out a variety of formats and sources with which you are unfamiliar.

1A (Radio show re: 1st Amendment)
ABC News
Al Jazeera
BBC (UK) (British Broadcasting Co.)
Bloomberg News
Breitbart
CBS News
China News Service (www.ecns.cn)
CNN
Diane Reem Show
Drudge Report
Ed Schultz
Fox News
Glenn Beck
John Oliver
John Stewart
Left, Right, Center (podcast)
More Perfect (Radio Lab podcast)
Mother Jones
MSNBC
NBC News
NPR (National Public Radio)
Patriot News
PA Post (papost.org)
PBS (Public Broadcasting Service)
Planet Money (podcast)
Politico
Politifact
Rush Limbaugh
Sean Hannity
Slate
Smart Talk (WITF daily radio show)
TED Talks
The Atlantic
The Blaze
The Colbert Report
The Economist
The Guardian
The Huffington Post
The National Review
The New Republic
The New York Times
The New Yorker
The Wall Street Journal
The Washington Post
This American Life (radio podcast)
USA Today
VICE News
VOX
WITF (Central PA’s NPR/PBS affiliate)